LOUIE Service Pack	TBA

Recent/New DegreeWorks Features:

Commons - Replacement for DW listserv; Include blogs, discussion boards, sharing of docs (March 2010)

Athletic Eligibility Audits - Arrived in DW 4.0.7, but not yet fully set up or tested in DW TEST; Not complete*

*1st draft of AEA not yet set up for Initial Eligibility or Transfer Students, but will be in the future

Ability to Freeze/Delete Audits - Arrived in DW 4.0.7, but not yet fully set up or tested in DW TEST

Expected Future DegreeWorks Features (some features may already be in effect w/latest upgrade):

Replace old technology behind the scenes of Scribe; Replace/refurbish core Auditor Engine

Course Signals - Early intervention system to find students at risk in a class or program

Pre-req Checking w/Banner during Registration (only needed if we allow registration to work within DW)

Student Educational Planner - Improvements expected in 2011 or 2012 (approx)

Introduce GoalChaser (doesn't exist yet) and Enhance CourseFinder (part of TreQ)

Integration with Social Media Tools; Enhanced Notes features; Automated metrics gathering tools

PC Tools available in Web-based environment, using Adobe Flex (possibly by end of 2011)

FYI ON PC TOOLS: The original plan--to have all ALL 3 PC Tools (plus SHP entry) available in the Web-based environment by the end of 2010--was not met. At this time, only SureCode and WebTreQ (which we don't have) have Web-based options. Transit and SHP entry will be coming soon, but Scribe will take longer. The Web-based environment uses Adobe Flex (which uses Flash). Our system will require the Tomcat server--which we have--and an EAG Work Request has been submitted to get that set up in DW TEST. Cathy Scott has been working with others in EAG to get this configured so that we can test our access to the Web-based SureCode tool. Once the entire set of PC Tools has been converted to the Web-based format, it will eliminate the need for PC Tool installation on individual machines. Users (REG only, presumably) would access the "PC Tools" via a tab option within the Web version of DegreeWorks.
